

Written on 06 October 2022

2 minutes of reading

News

Training and Careers

The graduation ceremony of the Executive Master of Management in Energy (EMME) program (class of 2022) was held on September 29 in Oslo (Norway) at the BI Norwegian Business School campus.

The 16 students of this class received their diplomas from Karen Spens, President of BI Norwegian Business School, in the presence of Lars Erling Olsen, Dean of Executive Programs at BI Norwegian Business School, Lars Huemer, Associate Dean of the EMME program, Maxime Schenckery, Director of the IFP School's Center for Energy Economics and Management, and Arash Farnoosh, Head of the EMME program and holder of the IFP School's "Electricity and Digital Transition" chair.

Paulien Veen and Vincent Bouchès, best students of the EMME program (class of 2022)

On this occasion, Paulien Veen, class delegate, and Vincent Bouchès were awarded the prize for the "best student" of the class. Sébastien Bianchi, Supervisor of the Energy and Markets program at IFP School, was awarded the title of "Professor of the Year" by the students.

Congratulations to the graduates!

Launched in 2006 in partnership with the BI Norwegian Business School, this 18-month program welcomes each year experienced professionals from the energy sector.

YOU MAY ALSO BE INTERESTED IN

IFP School student Carlos Penalver named Energy Leader for Tomorrow

Back to school!

Eight IFP School students awarded by the Société des ingénieurs de l'automobile

Graduation ceremony of the 2022 Executive Master of Management in Energy class

06 October 2022

Link to the web page :