At IFP School, the start of 2024 is all about hydrogen.
The School is offering two free MOOCs on the subject, open to all.

The first, "Hydrogen for mobility", will start on January 15, and will cover hydrogen technologies aimed at decarbonizing heavy mobility.

The second, "Hydrogen Production", opens on March 4, and focuses on the switch from high-carbon to low-carbon hydrogen production.

Don't miss out on these two new training courses, and register now on:
